WE’RE LOOKING FOR YOUNG MEDICS TO JOIN OUR TEAM AS AUTHORS OF AN EXCITING NEW CLINICAL GUIDELINES PROJECT.

ARE YOU INTERESTED? WE NEED SOMEONE WHO IS:

- Passionate about improving the life of foundation doctors, and keen to help tell them what they really need to know
- Talented at getting to the heart of a matter and clearly summarising information
- Proficient at time management and meeting deadlines
- A core medical, GP, or ACCS trainee CT1-CT2, or working in Paediatrics, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, or Psychiatry as a ST1-ST2

The project will require serious commitment outside of your normal working hours. We intend to write during 2018-19, followed by 12 months of editing and proof reading. In return, you will have the opportunity to contribute as a co-author to an exciting new resource from the publisher of the Oxford Handbook of Clinical Medicine. All published contributions will be acknowledged in the final resource.
