Dr Andy Chandler-Grevatt

Integrating assessment and intervention into your curriculum

The Oxford Expert Speaker Programme brings the best known experts in education to events across the UK to share new ways of thinking about teaching and learning. Oxford University Press is delighted to be working with Dr Andy Chandler-Grevatt, and will sponsor the training costs to deliver Andy’s session to schools:

Event Overview

Assessment expert Dr Andrew Chandler-Grevatt will discuss research, evidence, and workable strategies, to help you integrate intervention and assessment into your curriculum.

By carefully considering the interaction between assessment and intervention, and the programme you’re delivering, you can help ensure all students make progress over their 5-year secondary science journey. Andy’s recent work has been to develop a PinchPoint approach to intervention.

Learn how this works, try some activities yourself, and get tips on how to use them.

Further details

Designed for Heads of Department/Subject Leaders, classroom teachers, NQTs, RQTs
Duration: Twilight Session (4.30pm-6.30pm)

To book a session

Please contact your local educational consultant: www.oxford.ly/Consultant

About Dr Andy Chandler-Grevatt

Dr Andrew Chandler-Grevatt is a Teaching Fellow at the University of Sussex, where he works in teacher education. He is an experienced classroom teacher, having taught in schools for over a decade. A passionate advocate of schools-based assessment, he is the Series and Assessment Editor for a number of leading science textbooks and resources published by Oxford University Press. He is also the author of How To Assess Your Students: Making Assessment Work For You (2018) and How to Teach For Progress: Classroom Approaches for Improving Practice (forthcoming, 2019), in the Oxford Teaching Guides series.